- The screenshot shows the Grammarly web application. At the top, there are navigation links: "Sign in", "Sign up", and "Docs". Below these, the text "You're using Grammarly" is displayed. On the right side, there are two checkboxes: "Show" (checked) and "Highlight all the errors in this document" (checked). The main text input area contains the text "grammar adj file". At the bottom of the interface, there is a status bar with icons for "Add text", "Add text", "Add text", "Add text", "Add text", and "Add text".
